It contains an ACTIVE VOLATILE Princi-ple, extracted by Ether, and a bitter TONIO Principle, soluble in Alcohol.

Medical Properties and Uses. It is the most sure and speedy cure for Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout and Rheumatis Pains of all kinds that was ever introduced

There are a few remedies known to the Medical Profession which will remove the Rheumatic Poison from the blood, but whose action is so powerful in depressing the sys-tem of the already enfeebled Rheumatic pa-tient, that their use has to be ahandoned betient, that their use has to be ahandoned be-fore specific effects are obtainable, hence the want of success in treating this prevalent, and in consequence heretofore incurable disease. The Governor's Speech. Yesterday afternoon the Governor made known to the Legislative Assembly his reasons for calling the members together in a speech of some length, a report of which will be found in another column. So far as it goes it is a fair, common-sense production, just such as the people expected from a government responsible to them for their acts. It is TWO MASTED SCHOONER in striking contrast to the tone, as well as in the matter, of similar documen's under the now happily defunct regimes of the Seymours and Musgraves, couched as they were in the language of conscions independence, alike of public opinion and the honorable gentlemen who composed the Legislature, to whom they were more especially addressed, Public opinion is no longer to be ignored or treated with that dignified contempt to which it had become so well accustomed in the past, but is now deemed worthy of special reference in the Speech from the Throne. It is not to the Ma in Victoria Harbor, about 50 Tons Creights, nor Rebertsons, nor Holbrooks of this Legislature that the country is indebted for the deference which her suitable for the Victoria and Skeens Majesty's representative and his advisers river trade. now pay to public opinion, but to those gentlemen who through evil report and good report never ceased to demand for the people the right of selfpeople the right of selfgovernment, until at last they gained their point and compelled the government to yield unwillingly what they could no longer withhold successfully. The proposed amendment of the Franchise Act, repeal of the Civil List Act, amendment of the School Law, so as to make education free and non-sectarian. and repeal of the Road Tolls, are not measures originating with Messrs. Mc-Creight & Co., for which they are entitled to credit; these are measures for which the Liberal party have been contending for for years, and which are only now conceded by the present government be cause they cannot help themselves, and because they are well aware that the tenure of their offices would not be worth a day's purchase if they ventured to do Coal & Commission Merchants anything else. Notwithstanding the fact that those who fought the battle of reform have been ignored by Governor Trutch in the organization of his government, and that he has thought proper to eall to his council men whose only claim The full English Ton of 2,240 lbs guaranteed. to distinction is based upon the opposition they had always given to the cause of Confederation, Responsible Government, and the right of the people to manage their own affairs, they have nevertheless reason to be proud at the triumph of those principles, witnessed in yesterday's proceedings in the Legislative Chamber. The country may well feel gratified over the fact that even the enemies heretofore of Responsible Government and progres- Lumber, Timber, Spars sive principles are compelled to bow to &c., upon as Reasonable Torms as any Mill on the Coast rather than surrender office, and the emoluments thereto pertaining, comply with the well-known wishes of the people in reference to the measures above enumerated, although everybody knows they do it with a bad grace, and would be only too willing to do otherwise if they had it in their power. The Tariff question is omitted in the speech, for what reason is best known to the Government. We presume the intent is to leave it an open question—a hopeful sign for those who favor a modified Tariff; for if the Government felt itself safe in recommending the Canadian Tariff, it would probably have done so. As we have before observed, the speech contains little that is objectionable, but we shall look forward with some interest to the introduction of the promiised measures of the Government, and sincerely hope they may be such as to entitle them to the support of the House and the confidence of the country.

Shortly after 3 o'clock His Excellency entered the House, accompanied by his suite, and was preceded by the Serjeant-at-Arms, bearing the Mace which was placed upon the table of the House. The state of transition in public affairs incidental to the change in our political system, which existed on my assuming the govrnment of the Province, compelled me to take for a while the direct charge of the administration of departmental business, in a greater measure than would otherwise have evolved upon me. THE RULES AND ORDERS.

The Hon, the Attorney General moved the adoption until Tuesday, of Rules and Stand-ing Orders for the guidance of the House. They were, with few exceptions, similar to those in use in the Ontario Legislature. They would be discussed on Tuesday, when introduced; in the meantime it was proposed to adopt the Rules and Orders laid before the members.

Mr. DeCosmos replied that it appeared to be a most unusual course to adopt. The the Legislature. Mr. McCreight argued that the Rules and Orders of a Provincial Legislature were more in accord with the House than those of the debate, when a motion to rise and report Lieutenant Governor to declare to you that English House of Commons; it was a course adopted by Ontario.

Mr. Humphreys supported the view taken. by Mr. DeCosmos. He thought it a mistake be well if the leader of the Ministry would accept the proposition of his honorable colleague. The House could not go wrong in following the usage of the English Commons.

The Hon. Colonial Secretary supported his

hon. colleague, the Premier. He (Mr. R. contended that the greater number of the members were not acquainted with the Rules of the Euglish House. Those now proposed, are printed and are lying on the member's lesks, and they could become familiar with them in a very short time. The Rules and Orders of the English House of Commons, he said, were manifestly inappropriate to the present Assembly. The motion was that those now proposed be adopted until Tuesday. Mr. Armstrong didn't wish to see the time of the House taken up with a discussion

He would support the motion of the Premier. Cries of "question, question." Mr. DeCosmos considered in his duty to rotect the interests of the House.

The Premier again replied. Mr. Humphreys spoke to the remarks of the Colonial Secretary; he said he did not oppose the motion in any factious spirit. The argument of the Hon. Colonial Secretary was no argument at all. The Monarchy, combined with the freedom, elasticity, and progressive energy of Republican Urders of the English House of Commons, institutions. Mr. Robson thought the opposition offered to the adoption of the Rules very frivolous. It was customary for the Governor to send down Rules for the guidance of the House, and they should be adopted for the time being. He didn't recollect having seen such opposition on any previous occasion. The

Mr. Bunster said, he for one could not support the Rules sent down. As an instance, No. 18, if adopted, would disfranchise every member of that House; it was sufficient of itself to condemn them.

The entire population marched in procession on the opening day, and during the remainder of the week no person appeared on the street unmarked. In every house joility and good cheer prevailed, and Russian and Si-wash, American and Teuton indulged in masked bails each evening. This week is kept as a carnival week each year by Russians, and they indulge in amusement to their heart's content. No:withstanding the excitement, there was no quarrels or disorderly and owners.

The suit to determine the ownership of the Hertford estates in Antrim-a property worth £60,000 a year—commenced on the 17th uit., in the Court of Common Pleas. Sir Richard estates were given in remainder in a previous will. The whole case turns upon the constructions of certain technical words.

An attempt is reported to have been made a Limerick, on the night of November 11th. to assassinate Mr. Kelley, a sub-Inspector of Constabulary who, up to a recent period, was a command of the police force in the city. Mr. Kelley states that as he was sitting by the fire in his house in Cecil street, about half-past eight o'clock, a shot was fired at him through the window, and the bullet grazed his left ear, passed through a folding door and lodged in the wall of an inner room.

At a late meeting of the Home Rule Association at Dublin, Mr. Pim, M.P. for that city, was found fault with for stating that he was not in faevr of Home Rule pure and simple, but merely thought the Irish members alone should be allowed to decide Irish questions at Westminster. In the course of the discussion, the Rev. Prof. Galbraich, to prove that the Scotch were as dissatisfied as the Irish, and almost as clamorous for Home Rule, instanced the recent speech of Dr. Begg in favor of divining the country in districts for legislating on local subjects.

The guard of the up-passenger Longford train, named Ewart, by some mishap fell from his train near Killucan, and received such injuries to both legs that he expired shortly after. The bodies await a coroner's inquest.
